Once again its time to go to the place we know, we know that anything goes, we're off lets go on a mission, no money just wishin' every night could be this way, just hope we make it in time to play

At least before the man comes down on us to frown at us, he's tryin' to clown us, we can't allow this play we must, so it's off to the next secret mission spot only to find that the new spot its too hot!!! Too hot!!!

All we gotta say is let us fuckin' play just one last time and then we'll go away again, until the next time, that we meet it, it could be anywhere, on any street.
