"Start Again"

Can you hear the footsteps
Can you tell I'm walking
Around the streets, and cars
Cold winds don't stop all night again
Is it time for answers
Down and going outward
The look on your face would be nice
To see you smile again

When we're down, when we're weak
No I've never seen your face
But I know this love will last
So start again

The song we'll sing forever
The one we'll fall in love to
Don't worry about the words
They will come in time to you

The phone that won't stop ringing
The bass that won't stop pounding
These memories will fade
With the new day ahead of me

When we're down, when we're weak
No I've never seen your face
But I know this love will last
So start again, start again

Can you scream, can you hear
Dear, I'll go and keep you near
Baby, I know this love will last
So start again, start again
I know this love will last
So start again, start again

Can you hear the footsteps
Can you tell I'm walking
Around the streets, and cars
Cold winds don't stop all night again
Is it time for answers

Down and going outward
The look on your face would be nice
To see you smile again

When we're down, when we're weak
No I've never seen your face
But I know this love will last
So start again, start again

Can you scream, can you hear
Dear, I'll go and keep you near
Baby, I know this love will last
So start again, start again
Baby, I know this love will last
So start again, start again
Baby, I know this love will last
So start again
