"Beyond All"

All the times I wished for you to speak to me
A quick hello or maybe half a smile
Your eyes closed silently below me
Eternity in the space before you and I

What's on your mind, what's in your head
Perhaps a thought from years past fading
The smell of rain on a cool April's night
Or of you and I

Thought I could fake the strength
Maybe you wouldn't know
Beyond faith there is hope, beyond hope there is peace
Beyond peace there is I, beyond I there is we
Beyond all there is love

I've spent so long just praying
Blood on my knees, there's blood on my soul
Sometimes I wonder if anyone's listening
Sometimes I wonder the same about you

If I could take it all back you know I would
All the things I've said and just what I've done
My gift to you, my very last breath
In exchange for the unknown

Thought I could fake the strength
Maybe you wouldn't know
Beyond faith there is hope, beyond hope there is peace
Beyond peace there is I, beyond I there is we
Beyond all there is love
