

Johnny Lökke

"Horses And Angels"

Visit "Horses And Angels" on MotoLyrics.com

Don't remember much but I woke laughing You were just watching never speaking not saying a word Outside the snow falls, but it's warm here where we're laying
Time flying too fast while the souls slowly fade away

Mama used to tell me about horses and angels
And dreams so real, you'd swear that you could fly

What's the point you keep saying all I hear are the angels singing
As they shine their lights down on you making halos above your head Lately I been praying this time that you'll be staying Even though I'm holding tight, you've already slipped away

Mama used to tell me about horses and angels
And dreams so real, you'd swear that you could fly

Mama used to tell me about horses and angels
And dreams so real, you'd swear that you could fly

Wise men and fools both swear that it's true Well I'll take a little of each and throw away whatever I can't use

Mama used to tell me about horses and angels
And dreams so real, you'd swear that you could fly
Once upon a time there was horses and angels
And dreams so real we'd never ever have to die

Visit Johnny Lökke page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.