"In The End"

In the end what really matters most
Is all that you say and what you do
Close your eyes and just try to dream a while
Feel the light inside of you

And to your god you pray
Please take this pain a way
Please don't leave me on my own
And I have tried so hard to
Fight what I cannot control
It turns my heart so black it's burned

It has been so long
Since I have felt this strong
Please don't take it all away
I have sanctified you
Tried to pacify you
Now I beg for one more day

And to your god you pray
Please take this pain a way
Please don't leave me on my own
And I have tried so hard to
Fight what I cannot control
It turns my heart so black it's burned
