Watch your back the door it's open
Standing tall I'm on my guard
Bad things come to those who wait too long
So don't wait too long cuz you've come too far

Gone are the stars that fell in time
Faint traces they leave in your mind
Wondering if they were ever there
Gone are the stars that fell in time
Faint traces they leave in your mind
Wondering if they were ever there

What happens now the curtains drawn
Who's the one you don't let in Turn the lock and slide into bed
Before you disappear again

Gone are the stars that fell in time
Faint traces they leave in your mind
Wondering if they were ever there
Gone are the stars that fell in time
Faint traces they leave in your mind
Wondering if they were ever there

Touch my hand and let me lead you
All of a sudden I'm lightning and fire

Gone are the stars that fell in time
Faint traces they leave in your mind
Wondering if they were ever there
Gone are the stars that fell in time
Faint traces they leave in your mind
Wondering if they were ever there
