And I can't break away, break away
Now you're gone, and I can't break away
From your love

Today I took your picture of the wall
But when I close my eyes it's still you I see
Lord knows I tried to forget it all
But it's all no use I can't let it be

I know you movin' on but,
Right now I don't feel that strong
And I keep falling back to love

And I can't break away, break away
Now you're gone, and I can't break away
From your love

And I can't break away, break away
Set me free 'coz I can't break away
From your love, your love, love, love

I tried so hard not to let it show
So I hide away playin' masquerade

I wish I could stop and let it go
But I still believe we where meant to be

I know you movin' on but,
Right now I don't feel that strong
And I keep falling back to love

And I can't break away, break away
Now you're gone, and I can't break away
From your love

And I can't break away, break away
Set me free 'coz I can't break away
From your love, your love, love, love

(Your love, love, love x3)

I know you movin' on but,
Right now I don't feel that strong
And I keep falling into love, back to love

And I can't break away, break away
Now you're gone, and I can't break away
From your love
And I can't break away, break away
Set me free 'coz I can't break away
From your love, your love, love, love

(Your love, love, love x6)
