welcome to my head won't you please excuse the mess cause i've been up all night the memories are for sale but you can borrow them for free if you express your empathy

don't have to wade around the garbage you can block it out like me

i got this place i get away

I got this place i get away sometimes

I talked to god last night but then it ended up the same tomorrow nothings gonna change

no it won't ever change i talked to mom and dad but i can't tell em what i want to say

I guess some kids just live their lives that way

and sometimes i find
that you derail my heart
you derail my soul
you derail me whole
and you save myself from me
you derail my heart
and you save myself from me along the way I know i'm just a wreck I'm just a mess as you can see You run to me and I will come for you I said i'll more than run, a rocket fire I'll pick you diamonds from the sky and put 'em in your pocket and you'll wake up every night
and sometimes i find

along the way

when i hold you last Friday like a picker playin slow spin summer into nothing and turning copper into gold and like a thief you stole my whisper, and your beauty stopped my tongue and what i want i have forgotten and sudden lit the fires of love and you derail my heart

and you derail my soul

and you derail me whole
