Without you, my whole live would be a show
Without you, there would be no place to go
Just a fraud, a fake parole to see
You make me all the man I'll ever be

Without you, my whole live would be a lie
Out of tune, out of love, out to dry
Without you I'd drifting out to see
You'll make me all the man I'll ever be

Without you my whole live would be a joke
Empty rooms broken dreams often smoked
Without you at this side I'll do believe
You make me all the man I'll ever be

Well that's brought me to my knees
You saved my soul that I'll ease

When you smile, all your beauty fills my heart
And no words, could describe all even start
To express just what you mean to me
You make me
I said you make me
You make me all the man I'll ever be
