I wanna live, bake the bread and pour the wine.
I wanna love all the world and all that's mine.
I wanna dream precious pearls that never dim.
I wanna fight for the right and know it's mine.

And go where the wind blows, and go where the wind
blows.
Don't you wanna go? Show them what you're made of,
Anywhere it takes, just go,
Following the long drum, anything for freedom.

I wanna bleed, bleed the blood of harmony.
I wanna shout so I can hear my bad cry.
I wanna break all the things that hold me down
I wanna fly to that distance in the sky.

And go where the wind blows, and go where the wind
blows.
Don't you wanna go? Show them what you're made of,
Anywhere it takes, just go,
Following the long drum, anything for freedom.

May the odds be in your favor tonight,
As we show the world, change the world.
May the odds be in your favor tonight
As we show the world, change the world.
May the odds be in your favor tonight
As we show the world, change the world.
May the odds be in your favor tonight
As we show the world, change the world.

Don't you wanna go?
Show them what you're made of, anywhere it takes,
Let's go, following the long drum, anything,
Don't you wanna go?
Show them what you're made of, anywhere it takes,
Let's go, following the long drum, anything for freedom.
Anything for freedom.
