Through driving often you come along where folks form focus and meet when you blink and meet me

Don't stop coming I'll never stop drumming my thumbs on your dashboard

The medium sized world is making a comeback the world at large is drowning disappearing crawling up and out forever Is it your number? or is it you don't belong well, when black clouds hover so low we will rise to kiss you Don't stop blushing gushing in buckets of color
