When we're lost and losing hope
When we're happy on the road
Smiling big
Trying to find the words, oh.
To express that overwhelming joy
When you're screaming
At passing scenery

Don't get too caught up in beautiful
It's just a word
We create these descriptions
We made up all this verse
And prose and heaven knows
It's just a means
Of giving things some meaning

So screaming formless this time
Don't let your sounds get tied down in words.
Just let it burst and flow and float away
On soaring waves
Of sonic imperfection

Don't get too caught up in beautiful
It's just a word
We create these descriptions
We made up all this verse
And prose and heaven knows
It's just a means
Of giving things some meaning

You don't need these boundaries
You were born free
So start living
