White swords of blinding razor light
Blast round the Earth
Validating the immortal strength
Courage of the brave

From the aftermath of dust and flames
Resilience soars
Upon the searching light's reflected blade
That guards and saves

The dark sky
The victims
The air is full of vengeance
From now on
Now mercy
The wrath of God reins on you

These monuments of power and steel
Carved in each soul
Stand forever indestructable
For all mankind

The face of mighty nations liberty
In stoic resolve
For all the hated evil that men can do
Will be avenged

The dark sky
The victims
The air is full of vengeance
From now on
Now mercy
The wrath of God reins on you

It's over
You're wasted
Now you're incinerated
In hell
I'll meet you
And once again defeat you

And though the light is dimmed to black someday

Inside it burns
A raging fire virtues to endless war
And freedom's cause

The dark sky
The victims
The air is full of vengeance
From now on
Now mercy
The wrath of God rains on you

It's over
You're wasted
Now you're incinerated
In hell
I'll meet you
And once again defeat you
