Starting eyes examine me just because I'm from the sea they all choose not to look at the pages in the book why people judge each other according to their skin's own color ? no one seems to take the blame for the fuss yeah it's a shame we are all in the same race put on earth to recreate
the human race
so we stand before the love that sees what the brotherhood of man believes may the eyes that hate and shun the faith someday search for love as one may the blood that's shed against your brother never be in vain e'er we recover peace and love
the human race
I know a search for the world as a perfect place is so out of touch
I feel if we use love as a perfect guide one day we will join hands in the face of god and feel to be free
