Everybody is someone else's secret
I'll do my best to hide it
If you can promise to keep it

Young lady looked in a cracked mirror
You look the same
But you must be somebody else
We look at shame
Like a game

The ground is coming fast before us now
We'll hold on this until they figure out
The story we can spin
To keep on counting sins
And never let our lovers hold us down

She said she knows a traitor
Before he even knows himself
A love filled with bad actors
Were just assorted versions of ourselves

Young lady looked in a cracked mirror
But you must be somebody else
We look at shame
Like a game

The ground is coming fast before us now
We'll hold on this until they figure out
The story we can spin
To keep on counting sins
And never let our lovers hold us down [x2]

Now without the spark of hope
Would you ever let her tell you
Love is nothing but a hoax?
You can set it up and watch her fall
All your friends, they will tell you
She's the devil with a soul [x2]

The ground is coming fast before us now
We'll hold on this until they figure out

The story we can spin
To keep on counting sins
And never let our lovers hold us down [x2]
