I know not your heart or your mind or your name
Your Achilles heel or from where you came
Though it's written in the stars my desires will flame
I might take a pass on what the stars are saying
You're impossibly beautiful, is that 'cause I'm waiting
Is that 'cause I'm looking or is it just 'cause you are

The indignant look as you catch the eye
Of the onlooker caught in a gaze at thine
As you're innocently flaunting your beauty, 'ah! '
You've no idea how beautiful you are
You're impossibly beautiful, is that 'cause I'm waiting
Is that 'cause I'm looking or is it just 'cause you are

You're not laid so bare by the vanity fare
To tamper with your charms... oxygen in a jar
You're not an assembled cocktail of bits and not
A stuck together look all made up with tricks
You're impossibly beautiful, is that 'cause I'm waiting
Is that 'cause I'm looking or is it just 'cause you are

You don't play the love game of toxic love
Of trading love for beauty the winning of
Will you ever wish you knew what a spell you cast
Or maybe it's a beauty you'll always have
You're impossibly beautiful, is that 'cause I'm waiting
Is that 'cause I'm looking or is it just 'cause you are
