I don't know who I want and I don't know what I need I'm in a situation that I know I can't read I'm having conversation but I can't speak
I know that I'm listening but nothing I hear.
You bring me down, down, down down down when you're
Around
And the unease displeases me somehow when you're
I'm in anticipation of your next move
I'm engaging your raging but I keep my cool
The expression on your face wish I could displace I'm frustrated cos I wait to pussy-foot around you
you're
Around
And the unease displeases me somehow when you're

I'm all alone though everybody's here
Laughter and banter ringing in my ear
High and low the stories go
The depression is oppressing cos you're leaning on me

you're
Around
And the unease displeases me somehow when you're

I need to catch the bee in your bonnet, turn it inside
Out with you on it
Whirl you around and then a pillow landing, so quell
The fending and get on with me
you're
Around
And the unease displeases me somehow when you're

I need to catch the bee in your bonnet, turn it inside

Out with you on it
Whirl you around and then a pillow landing, so quell
The fending and get on with me
you're
Around
And the unease displeases me somehow when you're
