(*talking*)

Yeah, listen to these two words

We all done experienced them, at one time or another

Could be your mama, your best friend or your brother yeah

[K-Rino]

Pain, is when the family ain't ate in a day or two

And you the man of the house, and everybody's depending on you

Visualize your best partna, taking a hit on that glass

And start stealing from you, so you end up beating his ass

Betrayal is when you give your girl, the sun and the moon

Then you catch her getting knocked down, in your own bedroom

Picture this, your sister's prostituting handling her bis'

And you can't even tell your daddy, cause you don't know who he is

Lil' mama you bout to have a baby, ready to name it

Then the dude who help you make it, leave and don't even claim it

You and your homie catch a case, for getting caught with a cake

Then in court, they show this fool talking to FED's on tape

You got a close friend you down with him, for life that's a fact

But everytime you turn around, he got his knife in your back

You taking care of your seed, you ain't never been selfish

Then you find out that your only child, is somebody else's

[Hook - 2x]

Pain and betrayal, pain and betrayal

Scarred for life by pain, somebody else gave you

Constant fight to remove, the stain if you able

Call on the most high, from your brain it'll save you

[K-Rino]

Pain, is when your homie dies and no longer with ya
And you feel the sting, everytime you look at his picture A cat beg you to give him game, and finally convince ya

And then he take the nine that you gave him, and use it against ya

Pain, is when we start with only dreams that guide us Then we finally do come up, and let the money divide us

Betrayal is when you find out, helping folks can be dangerous

And sometimes your family members, do you worse than strangers

You going to church faithfully, chasing your calling But the congregation is roaching, while the preacher is balling

Betrayal leads your perception, amongst people that start it

Pain is when your child can't have something, cause you can't afford it

When you leave your kids but come back, much wiser and smarter

And find out they see another man, as being they father

They say forgive, cause a hard heart's pathetic and sad

I done charged so much to the game, my credit is bad

[Hook - 2x]

[K-Rino]

Pain, is when your daughter or your son is molested
And guilt covers you, cause wasn't there to contest it When somebody else did the crime, but you got arrested

And did ten years in the Pen, before they finally confessed it

Betrayal, people in your presence smiling and grinning Then talk down on you to other folks, to keep you from winning

Is when a fool gets some cash, and make it out of the slums

Move away and turn his back, on the hood that he from Pain, is when your husband was unfaithful and ran And through all of that to make it worse, he slept with a man

When your wife or your lil' mama, was being untrue Then she tell you, she'd rather be with another woman than you

Betrayal, when they told you bout a pie in the sky And you discovered, that everything that you was taught was a lie Knowing a person got potential, but they won't even try Watching the evil people prosper, and the righteous die

[Hook - 2x]
