"Goodbye Cruel World"

there's a train going by
and the railroad cars rush away like the days in the year and i'm waving goodbye
cause something is leaving but things are not how they appear

i'm not going with you watching you fade away
i won't even miss you so cool and hard good times are coming our way there's a field of golden grass just growing clouds moving over the sky one dark horse just won't run don't ask me to push her by so long cruel world...

from now on that whistle blowing it's a false alarm i won't be going down there

just an aching pain just a little brown bruise
a cow's jumping over the moon
