i get so sad just thinking of you, all the good times we had, i hurt your feelings, you hurt my feelings, but we had fun, too, that's not so bad. is there a reason, these things happen. like a snow day in july. sometimes i might cry, but then i snicker. that's the see saw you and i. see saw, us little kids, see saw, look what we did. watching the sun go down on a game, i wish we made up. wherever you are, i hope you're happy. is that a stupid thing to say. it's the simple thing that matters, perhaps i'll find you another way. ooh, us little kids! i feel lonely off and on now but didn't i when i was younger, stand in my shadow without a friendship, little worried what i'd become. see saw, us little kids!
