

Junius

"Blood Is Bright"

Visit "Blood Is Bright" on MotoLyrics.com

I take the lights and break through
I'm a million years, and you're new
It's commonplace for them to Control our discourse

Without a voice or figure
I appear to the weak and obscure
It's a war with what we've known
It's the coming clouds and the places we can go

Wake up all the feelings that you hold inside
About those phone lines that call to all of us
Forfeit all the fighting and the bogus lies
It's about the brilliant lights that follow all of us

I breed in the darkest places,

Control all the foul and faceless
While the blood is bright, they form
And silence the conscious

I fear in the palest moonlight
I'm a part of the fallen night sky
It's a war with what we've known
It's the violent times and the faces we can know

Wake up all the feelings that you hold inside
About those phone lines that call to all of us
Forfeit all the (unintelligible)
It's about the brilliant guise that troubles all of us

Visit Junius page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.