The picture's in the fire. The image isn't clear.
He's anxious and he's broken, because he lived in fear.
The world's a scary place, you lay your fears to rest.
Close your eyes for one last time.
Pray you've done your best.

You've done your best,
But you've become a shell of yourself,
Is gone, is dead.
My friend, you've bet more than you can afford,
And I'm not here to save you now,
To save you anymore.
Breathe, stay calm.
The truth will come in time.
And I will be a mess, when you are gone.

Close your eyes. Picture that you're home.
The world is dead and gone, but you're not alone.
