I can't feel my face, (no) my blood won't circulate, (no) i get light headed never thought of you leaving i want to take something to relieve all the pain i've tried everything but nothing seems to work at all you may think i'm walking around maybe i am the one with my head down (oohh) excuse, theres no for you

when i stay
i still remember the day that you went away you went away, you went away, (ohh)
you needed space, you needed space you went away, away, away from me (x4)
you went away

I can't feel my legs
My arms don't move no more My fingertips have no feeling because you're gone I think i need an ice-pack for my head because you're gone, there ain't no reason to get out of bed, oh-ho

maybe i am the one with my head down (oohh)
excuse, theres no for you
when i stay
you went away, you went away, (ohh)
you needed space, you needed space

all i, really wanna say i shoulda done anything to make you stay you up, left more than a thousand miles away i was just fooling myself, now i regret it baaaabe i wish i could turn back the hands of time i'll go back to the time where everything was fine all i really want in my life, is to have you here,

you should've stayed, away, away from me, i would do anything to keep you here (away, away from me,)

right by me (away, away from me, you went away) if you're looking for that golden committment, listen

you went away(away, away from me) (X3)
you needed space, you needed space
