It's been a long time since you've come around here.
You're looking like something that I'd hold dear to me.
Oh dear, oh dear.

If you would just breathe I think it would make perfect sense that we would be better off like this.
You and me.
We would be perfect for each other.

Come on, it's not that hard.

Everybody wants you.
Everybody wants to hold your hand.
But they don't know how I feel about this, baby.
Because you've got a way with words, and you've got my hopes up.

It's not rocket science if it's right in front of your nose.
I can't tell you that I'm what's best for you,
but I can tell you that I come close.
So don't keep me wondering
If I'm what your favorite magazine is telling you that I should be.
I know what I should be.

I lose my head when she speaks.
But in my chest is where it really hits.
This love is closing in.
