She only showed up to survive the lights go on the music dies her eyes are clouded with the words that have been screamed but never heard

She cuts her finger on the nails that keep her world together

She Finds Love in All the wrong places
Broken girl feels lonely and faceless
But when hearts are numb and the tears come
She moves right along with the kick drum

It seems that life is just a game and her best friend is just a name I don't know what keeps her alive stabbed in the heart and she survives

She carves her feelings in the wall with blades that keep on breaking

She Finds Love in All the wrong places
Broken girl feels lonely and faceless
She moves right along with the kick drum

I wish that I could be all that she needs from me

I wish that she could see all the she means to me everyday you can hear me say I love her not any other

Disarray
Rides on what I say I love her I love her

She Finds Love in All the wrong places

Broken girl feels lonely and faceless
But when hearts are numb and the tears come
She moves right along with the kick drum

When she speaks her voice becomes paper Ransom notes come out and escape her I've read every line written in black I'll give all I got to get you back

I'll give all I got to get you back
