Everyday I wake up late Since I quit my day job, I have been sane
But responsibilities sure do remain But I'll just let them wait

Because I don't know what I am doing now
And I won't try to act like it 'cause I sure don't know how
And I'll admit that I don't know, just where I'm going on this long
And winding road, that's taking me to what will be my home

So stare and see that this is me, and I will be just what I need to believe
That something is what I'm gonna be
And what you do is what you do and what I do needs to be true
The things I do maybe need to be thought through But just remember what's right for me, might be not right for you

Staring at this mirror and I'm wondering who you are But now is a time for searching and I just wish I had a car
To drive a long distance and just think about the war
And now life's got so much more

Because I don't know what I am doing now
And I won't try to act like it 'cause I sure don't know how
And I'll admit that I don't know, just where I'm going on
this long
And winding road, that's taking me to what will be my
home

need to believe
That something is what I'm gonna be
And what you do is what you do, and what I do needs to
be true
The things I do maybe need to be thought through

But I know what I want to do and I want it to be true

And yeah I'd be the first to say that of course I'll listen to you
But remember what's right for me, might be not right for you
