On a scale of 1 to 10
What number are you again?
I've got aa preoccupation
With quantifying
Every part of a human being
Every part and what it means
And turning it into
A commodity

Where do I connect with this machine?
We have become accessories
Make your connections in flesh and blood
We have become accessories

In a hundred words or less
Tell me about yourself
It's so easy to know you
When you're packaged on a shelf
And we're joined at the fingertips
Like zeroes and ones, we'll be
Sold for the highest bid

What happens when the power goes out?
What happens when we're disconnected?
What happens when the power goes out?
What happens when we're disconnected?

Where do I connect with this machine?
We have become accessories
Make your connections in flesh and blood
We have become accessories

What happens
When the power goes out
What happens
When the power goes out

Where do I connect with this machine?
We have become accessories
Make your connections in flesh and blood
We have become accessories

Where do I connect with this machine?
We have become accessories
Make your connections in flesh and blood
We have become accessories
