One place for all this distance we've got so displaced
The life that you've always wanted a thousand miles away
Like no man's like an architect
Like moving in one pace
We can't live forever
We could fade away

Borrowed time and missing faces
No home in a million places
I don't want a change of pace
I can't do anything else
(x2)

Now I have your attention
It's just a matter of time
Till you question what I'm saying, make me justify Every word in every line that does not seem to fit
But the meaning's not so important as long as you mean it

Borrowed time and missing faces
No home in a million places
I don't want a change of pace
I can't do anything else
(can't do anything else)
Borrowed time and missing faces
No home in a million places
I don't want a change of pace
I can't do anything else

The life that I wanted is frozen in motion (x2)

Borrowed time and missing faces
No home in a million places
I don't want a change of pace
I can't do anything else
(x2)

(I can't do anything else)
I can't do anything else

(x3)
(I can't do anything else)
