I open my eyes
To the snow on pane
And I start a clear life
In the gray
On the frozen glass
You took me away

And I can recall
Many years from before
Where was I then?
Lonely blue
Winter so beautiful
When you pulled me through

And all plays out
The January space
So divine to align the world is a beautiful place
It's just a scene from a dream that has lasted for days
and days

Go down the stairs
Gently out the front door
Into the white
Winter storm
Someone's waiting there
Lovely and warm

And all plays out
The January space
So divine to align the world is a beautiful place
It's just a scene from a dream that has lasted for days
and days
