I remember the day
When the love of God landed in our town
He took all the silent and broken hearts
And fixed them up and gave them a sound

He had almost every different kind of kid
From every different kind of social background Taking all the cool they had and praising God
As He spun them around, it's when God came to town

And the people in our churches, they were constantly amazed
At the kids kneeling at the altar with their different fashion flavors
You had squares and preps and skater punks, Goths and techno-ravers
And the tattooed kids with the colored hair
And they were all getting saved

You think the sixties had good vibrations?
Well check out my generation

We will run and never stop, yeah we all will stand together
Taking everything we are, and then praising Him
forever
Well anyone and everyone, come on join us for a good time
We are breaking all the rules, by praising God with your gift of cool

Suddenly almost every kid in town had finally found the way
To take all the gifts and talents and beauty they had And worship God every day, man, you had all the high school parties
And they were turning into worship raves And the sounds of the underground in town had turned into praise

together

Taking everything we are, and then praising Him
forever
Well anyone and everyone, come on join us for a good
We are breaking all the rules, by praising God with your
gift of cool

When you people sing, all of Heaven sings, so sing
Is that cool?

together
Taking everything we are, and then praising Him
forever
together
Taking everything we are, and then praising Him
forever

Well anyone and everyone, come on join us for a good
We are breaking all the rules, by praising God with your
gift of cool
Lift your hands into the sky, yeah we all will stand together
Taking everything we are, and then praising Him
forever
