Taking one by one
When you know I'm always down
I'm given up with the fame
But when did I take the blame? (I never said so)

Things are shaking
This world is breaking
Then leave it out, who will care? (I don't care)

I tell myself, another step
But when it ends, it wasn't close
You'll never know how it is
How it is in my, my, in my life

Now where, do I take my step?
I looked back at my walls
The writing on them, they never seem to fade
You won't dare, cause' you don't care (But so do I)

My mind is wrong now
Can't you show how
I'm leaving you, taking the rest (There's nothing left)

I tell myself, another step
But when it ends, it wasn't close
You'll never know how it is
How it is in my, my, in my life

It's always like this
We lie to pass through the rough times
We cry to trick them through the rough times

I tell myself, another step
But when it ends, it wasn't close
You'll never know how it is
How it is in my, my, in my life
You will never see how it is
How it is in my, my, in my life (In my life)
