The memories made
Won't fade
How can this life be so cruel?

The times we shared
Are still there
Inside and will never leave

Coz no one knows when you're gonna leave this world
forever
But when you reach the other side it's for the better

Gone too soon
This song's for you
Out of all the stars that shine, you're the one who'll
shine most bright
And all these tears we shed, coz we want you here
instead
You're in heaven, looking down
Can you hear this now?

You left us, so unexpected
So young, so wild, so sweet
There's nothing we can do
Than accept the truth
That heaven has gained a star

Coz no one knows when you're gonna leave this world
forever
But when you reach the other side it's for the better

Gone too soon
This song's for you
Out of all the stars that shine, you're the one who'll
shine most bright
And all these tears we shed, coz we want you here
instead
You're in heaven, looking down
Can you hear this now?

Gone too soon

This song's for you
Out of all the stars that shine, you're the one who'll
shine most bright
And all these tears we shed, coz we want you here
instead
You're in heaven, looking down
Can you hear this now?

Although you're a billion miles away
I can still see your face
Like it's crystal clear
But you're not here...

Although you're a billion miles away
I can still see your face
Like it's crystal clear
But you're not here...

Gone too soon
This song's for you
Out of all the stars that shine, you're the one who'll
shine most bright

(In memory of Jack McLean 1992-2011)
