(verse 1)

never alone -in your selfish earth the low life you look down -on like ashes of the hearth when we see you steal -the esteem from them only your prec-ious life is like a gem ---yell---2x----

I don't know but you've been warned the people you harass wish they were never born whispering and laughing behind your back respect for other people, every one lacks

(chorus)

Arial motion your mind is spinning too fast for your thoughts to process and you don't know where you've been the past few hours wrapped up in yourself grabbing life from the shelf

(verse 2)

the anger builds up -to the top of their minds when around other peo-ple they try to be kind holding it -in and never letting it out you never learned the -meaning of what life was about
---yell---2x----

excluded they are from all the other kids you never found out what harmful things they did wanting so bad to be liked and loved when they try to be nice they get trampled and shoved
