VERSE 1

Another billboard pierces the clouds
With the stretch of american publicity
Throughout the high rise of the big city
Comes their urgent plea for more money

Bringing forth this twisted fate
This frequent failure to relate
A falling bomb of unknown weight
A lie of tricking those they hate
Using me as their bait
Then cast me out its not to late!

Sell your soul
Your flesh and bones
Find true hope in cellulare phones

CHORUS

Through fire comes urgency for the buying of your eternity
Throughout mass conformity comes one weakness of society
who lost the true meaning of culture and variety
Turn to the man who says he needs more notoriety

VERSE 2

Another steeple breaks through the sky
With a tycoon of failure I'm wondering why
This world of sin is painted high
With rocketing stocks but still I try

To find a way around this mess
This money's driven for success
I try to avoid falling in
To this web of public sin
Everyone's got to have one try
Its the american dream now don't be shy!

Sell your soul
Your flesh and bones

CHORUS

Through fire comes urgance for the buying of your
eternity
Throughout mass conformity comes one weakness of
Who lost the true meaning of culture and variety

BRIDGE

While standing here and waiting I look towards the sky BACKGROUND SING: We turn a blind eye overstock, overwhelm, oversupply!
BACKGROUND SARCASTIC SING: somethin about the fourth of july

just buy!!!!
