[Incomprehensible]

We gotta call the doctor
I'm as sick as can be
Put my finger in the socket
Shocked the hell out of me

Got me dizzy from the drama
That is filling the air
I'm turning into nothing
I really don't care

When the lights are going out
It's all I can take
There's just something in the sound
Of an empty space, woah, woah

Feeling, watching, saying something
Creeping, touching, give me nothing

When the lights are going out
It's all I can take
There's just something in your sound
Of an empty space

When the lights are going out
It's all I can take
There's just something in your sound
Of an empty space

When the lights are going out
It's all I can take
There's just something in your sound
Of this empty space
