I had no way of knowing
(Had no way of knowing)
You should've given a clue
(Given a clue, given a clue)
'Cause I belong to somebody else
Now what am I supposed to do

I wish that you would've told me
'Cause I was feeling it too...
But now I'm stuck living everyday
In an imaginary world with you

I hear you calling out my name
No I will never be ashamed
I feel you running through my veins
You always take away the pain

You Always Take Away the Pain

I wish that you would've noticed
(That you would have noticed)
You should've told me the truth
(Should have told me the truth)
Now you belong to somebody else
So tell me, what am I supposed to do

I'm hanging on by a moment
(Hanging on by a moment)
I hope it's killing you too
'Cause now I'm stuck living everyday
In an imaginary world with you

I hear you calling out my name
No I will never be ashamed
I feel you running through my veins
You always take away the pain

You always take away the pain

You always take away the pain
(Pain, pain, pain)

(Pain, pain, pain)
You always take away the pain
