My night had only just begun
When I could feel your eyes bore into my skull
I turned so you could get the clue
I've set the record straight
I've no interest in you
But you won't take no an answer
Step by step you make your way over
Don't go wasting your time or mine
I'm not into you crossing this line

If you wanna be a man
Understand that you can't win
If you want a piece of me
I'm not here for the taking
I'm building up a wall
Trying to ignore you way of thinking
When it comes to it
You can't do what you want to
Now don't lose you cool

Your time is up and overdone
'Cause sitting in a bar ain't my idea of fun
My leaving here is overdue
Step around the subject
Or just come out with the truth
But you won't take no for an answer
Step by step you make your way over
Don't go wasting your time or mine
I'm not into you crossing this line

If you wanna be a man
Understand that you can't win
If you want a piece of me
I'm not here for the taking
I'm building up a wall
Trying to ignore you way of thinking
When it comes to it
You can't do what you want to
Now don't lose you cool

Please, please, leave me alone

How can I try to convince you
Move back
Get out of my space
What would it take?

If you wanna be a man
Understand that you can't win
If you want a piece of me
I'm not here for the taking
I'm building up a wall
Trying to ignore you way of thinking
When it comes to it
You can't do what you want to
Don't lose your cool
If you wanna be a man
Understand that you can't win
If you want a piece of me
I'm not here for the taking
I'm building up a wall
Trying to ignore you way of thinking
When it comes to it
You can't do what you want to
Don't lose your cool
