When we walk around at night
You're always ten feet away
You walk in and out of my life
But I don't care either way
If I am inlove with you
That you brighten my day
But if you aren't next to me
Get the hell away

I got the rest of my life to get over you
I got the rest of my days to be better than you
Oh no

You were an impediment
Not your fault
I blame you anyway
Followed your scent resentfully
But it made me who I am today
How easy was it for you
To forget my name
Then replace me with someone new
Like a broken frame

I got the rest of my life to get over you
I got the rest of my days to be better than you

Darkness surrounds me
Freedoms absent
Losing again
What I thought was a friend

I got the rest of my life to get over you
I got the rest of my days to be better than you
I got the rest of my life to get over you
I got the rest of my days to be better than you
