All of my days were long
All of my nights, wooden
There I was alone, just an empty shell
And every now and then I stumbled and I fe-ell

Oh-oh many were the nights when my arms were empty
Someone came along with a smile to tempt me
I never said I love you to anyone but you-ou
Many were the times when I felt defeated
Someone came along with the warmth I needed
I never said I love you to anyone but you
To no-o one, no one

You were the dream, I dreamed
You were the prayer, I prayed
Longing for your love filled my every day
And every now and then I seemed to lose my way

Oh many were the nights when my arms were empty
Someone came along with a smile to tempt me
I never said I love you to anyone but you-ou
Many were the times when I felt defeated
Someone came along with the warmth I needed
I never said I love you to anyone but you
To no one, no one, but you...

Oh-oh, many were the nights when my arms were empty
Someone came along with a smile to tempt me
I never said I love you to anyone but you-ou
Many were the times when I felt defeated
Someone came along with the warmth I needed
I never said I love you to anyone but you-ou

Oh-oh, many were the nights when my arms were empty
Someone came along with a smile to tempt me
I never said I love you to anyone but you-ou
Many were the times when I felt defeated
Someone came along with the warmth I needed
I never said I love you-ou to anyone but you-ou

(Many were the nights, someone came along)
