You're able to search for your own place, which is still invisible, and keep walking the heartbeats in your chest echo so strongly that you can't hide the upsurge let's believe in the future more than the past and live in the present don't be hanging your head spread your wings and soar up your heart

wake up on any day, always the sun rises if you believe in your hot feelings

stand up
if you start running
non stop without stopping you'll aim for the world that you dream of
and run as long as you have strength the great, endless insecurity that awaits ahead of this path, searching your future if you grip onto your dreams and hopes and advance forward, then you won't be afraid let's face forward, believe in our friends, and depart on a journey together we'll aim for a new world, and now, start running from here jump out run through, go way you'll advance keep engraving the thoughts from that day in your chest shake up without giving up

do it let's believe let's grasp it someday
you'll be fulfilled, wake up your heart

on any day, always the sun rises
if you believe in your hot feelings
stand up
if you start running,
