Rocky Votolato - Lucky Clover Coin

You found a three leaf clover coin
You said it was good luck, and I think it will be
Your eyes are broken glass
The shattered light shines on everything you see

There's a world you wanna leave behind
Where a sunset in a constant bloody winter
Gives the only light
And with it I hoped I would deserve you

You're keeping me alive
'till the sunrise shall spring roses in water
For the rest of my life
I'll put your broken pieces back together

I wanna spend more time with you
Because you make me happy
It's something I've been so little of
You showed me that I can be

There's a world I wanna leave behind
Where a sunset in a constant bloody winter
Gives the only light
And with it I hoped I would deserve you

You're keeping me alive
'till the sunrise shall spring roses in water
For the rest of my life
I'll put your broken pieces together

For the rest of my life
I'll put your broken pieces together

For the rest of my life
I only wanna walk the way you've shown me
