We can go and walk in the darkness
Get relief at each streetlight
Dont know how much it'd cost us
Probably more'n i spent in my whole life on the silly ideas
That waste more time than i had to lose
When i woke up this morning
Seems like i got some much more to lose now then ever had before
Before

Little beanie-bean with the calculator keys
Beanie added it all up make it all make sence to me
I got no idea how much more
Time i got left if i cant get my mind right
The simplest little melodies got me all tangled up and that Tangled up
We can go and walk in the morning
We dont need streetlights just a new star
Not paralysed by appearences with big ideas
And just way too smart to walk around on the surface
When theres an ocean just beneath its blue-green smile
All the while nothings stopping me from jumping in it Sinking fast
Ill sing you to sleep first
