"Sun Devil"

My sun devil, you are the only one
From the first day I saw you at that show That's the way it's been Being able to admit when you've been wrong
Is one of the greatest lessons this life has to offer
Some things are forever
And your love is an Anchor

You broke my heart with a glance from the bathroom mirror
Brushing makeup on tears running down it didn't matter
The voice of God is the silence if you can listen there True Devotion and True Virtue will hold you at the center
As the waves crash over
Some things are forever
And your love is an Anchor

My sun devil, I know you've been running standing still
But I dreamed up a sweet avenue, it's a revolution
The innovation -- some things are forever
And your love is an Anchor
