Never let go those years of discovery
There's only so much a pair of arms can carry Embrace these years of necessity
Put your mouth around double edged sword
Your unhappiness is what you are, you are

Same nervousness
That makes me good at what I do
Is my enemy today
And will be my whole life through
I'll spend it with you

I have climbed a mountain, you've swam in every ocean
Heard a million songs and never tried to sing
I've read hundreds of books never wrote anything
I love you just the same, oh, just the same, hey, yeah
