Swear that you call this home as soon as I disappear
Seems only yesterday Channels was crystal clear
Having ours back to back Sliding, before my arms
Where ever as broken.

I am you're mercy meat, Fresh as a tender whore
Send him to beat me up, I won't feel insecure
And never this lonely.

When I come to call you're name
Don't you want me to seem worried?
When I come to save the day
Don't you want it to be special?

Only choices in your mind
Jumping up and down
Someone sees me, someone turns around
Someone turns around.

Promise me anything, Markings across the waist
Count me some valentine Voodoo to ease the chase
Sharing our back to back Sliding, before my arms
Where ever as broken.
