you
you never believe me we all radiate

so when I go outside and see the sun sparkle in your eye like the rays we radiate

Ain't it the truth that love's contagious I heard from the sages
love's contagious

Ain't it the same when hate's contagious it's been that way for ages hate's contagious

I went down the street to pick up something sweet for my honey then things got funny when someone picked on me

I know it ain't right but I started a fight and that was the end of our saturday night but ain't that just the moral of the story

Ain't it the truth that love's contagious
I heard from the sages
love's contagious

it never really changes hate's contagious

So when we're hanging out and we're in a crowd I like to think about the little ripple we start is gonna get around, get around

Ain't it the truth that love's contagious
I heard from the sages
love's contagious

'cause we all radiate
'cause we all radiate (we all radiate)

So when you go outside and you see the sun sparkle in your eyes

'cause we all (we all radiate)

and when you're hanging out and you're in a crowd you got to think about

'cause we all (we all radiate)
