THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES

WRITER RODNEY CROWELL

When I was young and restless I wasted so much time Halfway stoned and halfway out of my mind Well I don't feel that much different though now I realize

These are the best years of our lives

These are the best years that we're living in

And I know that someday later we're gonna reach the end

Though time stacks up against us the fire inside still thrives

These are the best years of our lives

These are the best years that we're living through

Then I know that someday later you're gonna know that too

There's so much more to living now than the kind of car we drive

These are the best years of our live these are the best years of our live
