

Rod Steward

"Debris"

Visit "Debris" on MotoLyrics.com

(ronnie lane)I left you on the debrisAt the sunday morning marketYou were sorting through the odds and endsYou was looking for a bargainI heard your footsteps at the front doorAnd that old familiar love songCause you knew you?d find me waiting thereAt the top of the stairsI wouldn?t of went backJust to see how far it wasAnd you looked shocked to tell meBut I had to love her myselfTheres more trouble at the depotWith the general workers unionAnd they said they?ll never change a thingWell they won?t fight and their not workingOh you was my heroHell you are my good friend(I?ve been there and back)And I know how far it isBut I left you on the debrisNow we both know you got no moneyAnd I wonder what you would have doneWithout me hanging around

Visit Rod Steward page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.