(tim hardin)If I listened long enough to youI'd find a way to believe that it's all trueKnowing that you lied straight-faced while I criedStill I look to find a reason to believeSomeone like you makes it hard to live withoutSomebody elseSomeone like you makes it easy to giveNever think about myselfIf I gave you time to change my mindI'd find a way just to leave the past behindKnowing that you lied straight-faced while I criedStill I look to find a reason to believeIf I listened long enough to youI'd find a way to believe that it's all trueKnowing that you lied straight-faced while I criedStill I look to find a reason to believeSomeone like you makes it hard to live withoutSomebody elseSomeone like you makes it easy to giveNever think about myself
