My Heart Hurts and my stomach aches
To see those eyes walking away
Filled with tears and your worst fear because of me
I wish things could have changed could have gone and done all the plans we made But now it's killing me to say that it's Just too late

And It's too late to say I Love You
And It's too late to come back now
I was waiting for so long for a piece of you
And i am sad to say i miss you
And i am sad to see you go
For the record i just wanted you to know
That i love you
Ya i loved you
I really loved you
But its too late

Thank you for the letter
I know it took a lot to get here and to say the words you were afraid to say I know one day that you'll move on I know one day that you'll be strong
'Cause someone else will get the best of you

But It's too late to say I Love You
And It's too late to come back now
I was waiting for so long for a piece of you
And i am sad to say i miss you
And i am sad to see you go
For the record i just wanted you to know
That i loved you
Ya i loved you
I really loved you
But its too late

And It's too late to say I Love You
And It's too late to come back now
I was waiting for so long i wish you could have found the words somehow

"cause all along i craved to know you For so long i yearned your touch you told me without those words that you really needed me that much
Ya know we had so much potential
I was never afraid to fall
And for the record i must say i really think we could have had it all

'Cause i loved you
Ya i loved you
I really loved you
But its too late

It's too late
Ohhh It's too late to come back now
I was waiting for so long, Yeah yeah
